

Ivana Dulic Markovic

BSc and MSc Agronomy Fruit and Viticulture Growing Faculty of Agronomy University of Zagreb; PhD Biotechnology – Virology, Agriculture Faculty University of Belgrade.

Ivana is dedicated professional with 38 years of professional research experience. Work experience includes fruit growing and phytopathology scientific research, agriculture policy creation and implementation as well as international consultancy.

Her professional career combines 15 years of scientific research in Fruit research institute in Cacak, with 6 years of extensive involvement in policy creation and implementation as Director of the Department for Genetic Resources, Minister of Agriculture and Vice Premier of the Government of Republic of Serbia assigned as chief negotiator with the EU.

Since 2009, she joined the SEEDDEV consultancy company, working on major SEEDDEV projects as well as individual consultancy for different international agencies. Ivana has excellent knowledge of different aspects of phytosanitary policy, fruit production and trade, value chain and competitiveness analysis.